

The Queerbook Instruction Book

This is a little list of things to help you get more from your Queerbook experience. There is a lot going on in here and it can be sort of confusing. Excuse the lady on the trapeze!

First off, you'll want to work on "MY PAGE". It's not my page, it's your page. But, you get it, unless you are really really slow. In which case, just wait for the short bus, sugar.

Okay, MY PAGE allows you do pretty much do any darn thing you please. Pictures you load up here are usually private unless you give permission to share. The "Text Box" is for an HTML code snip or widget. I recommend widgetbox.com for a big selection.

The RSS feature is for importing your blog. The Comment Wall looks like a comment wall. Pretty self-explanatory. You can also change the Appearances of your page so when you have visitors, they'll be wowed. You can add up friends to keep track of so just find a common group and find some buds.

The Other Members tab allows you to sift through and find folks by searching all sorts of criteria. Like "Texas" and up will pop members from Texas. Want to find Ed? Just type in Ed and do the search.

The Lots to Do tab holds all of the things you can do to contribute to communities. Or, just flip through. There are some pretty incredible reviews, insights and other things.

Oh and now Groups. Groups are small gatherings of members interested in a specific thing. There are Bears to Writers, Business to Metaphysical. Just check 'em out and join one or two. Remember, lurking is legal but it's not as much fun.

Frank's Place will take you to our Celebrity Personality, Frank Marino, the longest running headliner in Vegas. He's the bomb. In lipstick.

CafePress Shop. Need a "Are you as Queer as You Look" shirt? How about a simply Q-logo coffee cup for late night blogs?
